

Catalogue of Mental Health Measures

NEWS & UPDATES

Summer 2022

What's new on the Catalogue?

We recently updated the Catalogue with:

New study

The British Autism Study of Infant

Siblings, a prospective longitudinal study of 2,000 infants at an elevated likelihood for autism in England and Wales.

New features

All studies now contain information on which topics of physical health were measured in each of their sweeps.

New collaborations

The Catalogue is now part of DATAMIND, the new Health Data Research UK data hub.

Webinars

Our latest webinars engaged with members from third sector organisations:

- Association of Child & Adolescent Mental Health
- Children & Young People's Mental Health Coalition
- Association of Mental Health Providers

These enabled us to connect with this sector and initiate conversations on how the Catalogue can become more helpful and useful to its members.

Get in touch to book a webinar for your organisation in the Autumn!

More in our latest blogs

Helping to sow the seeds for mental health research: The Catalogue of Mental Health Measures

Children and Young People's Mental Health Coalition

A tool for maximising the uptake of existing mental health measures in UK longitudinal studies

UK Data Service

Both articles were written by our in-house blogger, Georgia (right).

New team members

We welcomed Elena Triantafillopoulou, Malaika Okundi, and Georgia Andrews (previously our research placement student) who have joined the team as Research Assistants!

Some more good news

Malaika was awarded second place in the Second Annual Biotechnology & Society Essay Contest!