Catalogue of Mental Health Measures

NEWS & UPDATES

Winter 2024

What's new on the Catalogue?

We recently updated the Catalogue with:

New studies

- The Early Predictors of Adolescent Depression (EPAD) study, which follows the children of parents with recurrent depression.
- The COVID Social Mobility & Opportunities study (COSMO), a national cohort study of more than 12,000 young people from across England during COVID.
- The Social and Economic Predictors of the Severe Mental Disorders Study (SEP-MD), the first linked cohort study featured on the Catalogue.

Not sure what a linked cohort is? Find out here!

New pages

- The upcoming studies page, where we highlight exciting new initiatives starting now and planning to become longitudinal.
- The longitudinal data resources page, with links to other helpful research platforms.

Increasing transparency in research

Our team, with members of DATAMIND and the DATAMIND Super Research Advisory Group secured funding from Health Data Research UK to work on increasing the transparency and accessibility of health data research resources.

Team updates

As the winter season is coming to an end, we are reflecting on how it started: a team social planned by our stellar placement students, Hannah and Maria Jose! Since then, we have been cruising into 2024, as pictured below.
One of our adventures this year is the development of a new searchable platform featuring the 3,000+ longitudinal datasets that we discovered as part of the Landscaping International Longitudinal Datasets project. We are excited to invite you to stay tuned...
